

LCF Signposting - Care and Pastoral Support

We all have times when we grapple with the challenges of life such as grief and loss, loneliness, anxiety, depression, stress, trauma and need a listening ear and reassurance, other times emotional support or signposting. Having a small supportive network can positively impact our sense of wellbeing, ability to cope and can help reduce depression, anxiety and stress.

It is ok to ask for help

Each of us has a God-given responsibility to care for others and as part of the LCF family we practically care for each other within our small groups or teams. If you need help, please talk to your group or ministry team leader. We also have Care volunteers who can provide practical support for church family members who are vulnerable or who do not have a support network.

It is good to talk

LCF leaders can offer pastoral support and we aim to do this with integrity and in a way that honours every individual. We recognise the importance of keeping our church community safe and signposting individuals when dealing with any situation that is beyond our competency.

We are actively looking to grow support groups in areas where more specialist experience and knowledge is needed. Where this is not currently available at LCF, please refer to the contact list below for external community services.

We currently have support or social workers who can help in particular situations, such as bereavement and loss and have experience around domestic violence and understanding its impact.
